Who's That Girl?

Fashion has countless intriguing characters. And they are now, more than ever before, prominently on display for the world to see, thanks to the plethora of fashion blogs that document some of the best in personal style. The proliferation of such style sites has forced designers to rethink and reinvent the woman they design for. What does she dream about? How does she smell? Who would she date? Where does she live? And what are the many hats she would metaphorically or stylishly wear this season and the next — would it be the Givenchy panther-eared cap or The Row's exaggerated, Davy Crockett-inspired coonskin cap?

So, to borrow a quote from Diane von Furstenberg, "style is something each of us already has — all we need to do is find it." A shrewd fashionista would already know her own aesthetics, but it's always humbling, if not wise, to ever so often do a reality check, döncha think? •
